The President's appeal for entire rest and relief even from public observation during his brief stay in the canebrakes of Louisiana should be granted. As he told the people of the neighborhood "being president is a strenuous work" and the occupant of that high office will perform his arduous duties all the better for an occasional absolute rest—rest even from publicity.

The President's enlightened views on the subject of inland navigation have long been known but it is gratifying to note the change of view of many railroad men and others, who, not so very long ago, were antagonistic to this mode of transportation. Some of the foremost railroad men of the day are conspicuously advocating canal construction and river improvement and the movement is being still further promoted by organized industrial and commercial bodies throughout the country. Even the completion of the Panama Canal, which is destined to compel a reduction of trans-continental railroad rates, is looked forward to with pleasure by all save Mr. E. H. Harriman.

A prominent metropolitan daily, commenting on the conclusion of Dr. Hugu Munsterberg that Harry Orchard told the truth when he made his famous confession in the trial of William D. Haywood, remarks that the verdict of the jury did not accord with the Doctor's opinion. That is not true, although it is not surprising in view of the wild proclamation of the members of the Miners' Union and the accomplices of Haywood that his acquittal vindicated the Union and proved Orchard's confession to have been false. The fact is that there was not a member of that jury which did not believe absolutely in Orchard's confession and in the guilt of Haywood and his accomplices. They rendered a verdict of acquittal, it is true, but they did so because they construed the instructions of the presiding judge to mean that the evidence produced by the State in addition to the Orchard confession was not sufficient to constitute a legal corroboration of that extraordinary avowal, and they felt bound, therefore, despite their own conviction of Haywood's guilt, to acquit him on the ground that it was not legally proven.

Devotees of football, almost at the opening of the season, are regaled with the news of the death of two victims and the amputated leg of a third, as the result of last season's games, and doubtless before the season is closed the number of broken legs and arms and collar-bones and noses, to say nothing of the deaths, will be ample to have satisfied the most bloodthirsty of the Roman Emperors. Is it not a sad commentary on the good sense of Americans that we pursue a game, taken up largely because it is English, which is recognized to be cruelly dangerous, which actually leaves so many of its victims maimed and unfit for their life duties? We have an idea, antiquated perhaps, that sports are intended primarily to promote the present and future well-being of the participants—physical, mental and moral. Is it truly American to perpetuate a game which annually sends forth hundreds of young men permanently maimed and handicapped for the game of life?

It certainly seems a sad commentary on the American merchant marine that, after the President had made the very liberal offer of 50 per cent more pay for the carriage of coal to the Pacific and to South American ports for the use of the naval fleet, than foreign vessels offered to do the same service for, only one American ship accepted the proposition and that was because it, after having been built on the Atlantic coast, was destined for the Pacific and must be sent around South America anyway. Of course, the chief difficulty lies in the fact that the privileges of the coastwise laws are confined to ships of American build. This places a grave limitation on all who would hazard their capital in ocean-going vessels and it is a policy which has driven the American flag from the seas, except as it is carried by naval and other government vessels. Were this country to follow the enlightened example of Germany and permit the purchase of vessels by Americans wherever they could be bought to best advantage, the merchant marine would grow as has done that of the "Fatherland", and the advantage which would accrue to the manufacturers of American goods from the increased transportation facilities would more than offset the temporary and comparatively small disadvantage of being unable to build the commercial ships.

In various articles appearing recently a somewhat pessimistic view is taken of the lot of the soldier and much has been written of the dissatisfaction in the ranks. It is generally conceded that the pay of the soldier is too small and it is hoped that Congress will remedy this defect. But is it not misleading to institute a comparison between his pay and that of the mechanic, the farmer or the laborer? It should be borne in mind that the enlisted man is housed, clothed and fed, and that in return for a given amount of faithful service he is pensioned for life, while when he is ill he is well provided and cared for, so that in so far as his own material wants are concerned he is care free. And in most cases he has no family to support.

The hardships of the soldier's profession are many and the government offers little inducement in the way of pay and advancement to the sluggardly or the ambitious. The crux of the situation lies in the fact that the men in the ranks are necessarily out of touch with standards of life and thought outside the army and until the American public can be convinced that there is as free a career open in the army to talent and application as there is in the commercial pursuits, our ambitious and energetic youths will avoid the service.

THE PROGRESS,

Greenville, O.

There are no "professional jurors" in Mexico. Nine of a man's peers try him, and a majority is a verdict. If the nine are unanimous there is no appeal. To serve on a jury one must have a diploma in law, medicine or some other profession or an income of $100 a month or he must be a member of a family whose head has an income of $2,000 a year.

The Shepherd And His Flock.

It is not suggested that the beginner in sheep husbandry should stock his farm with pure bred sheep. It will be necessary to begin with whatever class of ewes may be found most available, choosing rams of some pure breed and adding also a few pure bred ewes of the same breed. The hills of Pennsylvania contain already a good many ewes largely of Merino foundation, and these will form an excellent basis for a grade flock when crossed with desirable types of rams. A little to the south in West Virginia there are many ewes to be had, and a peculiar type of hill sheep. These ewes may be somewhat leggy and bare of wool, but they mostly prove very serviceable mothers for early lambs, and when mated with a good sire the results will prove quite satisfactory.

In Ohio there are great numbers of sheep of the Merino type, and these Ohio sheep will form an admirable basis for a grade flock. Next, it is astonishing how good many of the sheep of the ranges are today, having greater size than eastern Merinos, shearing heavy fleeces and having good, vigorous constitutions and no parasites when they leave the range. These range ewes may often be bought very reasonably in Chicago in the fall. It requires some care to get the right class. However, by careful selection after receiving the ewes they may be assured that any that are wrong in any way may be fattened and the suitable ones retained to breed. It is wise in buying these western ewes on the market to choose the type free from wrinkles or excessively greasy pelts, and sometimes they may be had with an infusion of Cotswold or Shropshire blood, which makes them all the more valuable for the farm purpose. The inexperienced shepherd should avoid lambs or yearlings, and no one should from choice buy ewes past four years. The young ewes that have never lambed are certain to give more or less trouble at their first lambing.—Pennsylvania Bulletin.

Wonderful Mutton Form.
The ram in the picture, bred by Dan Taylor, who is known as a shepherd wherever sheep are shown in this country, is Wardwell's Trysil Champion. He is now two years old and is used as a sire this year. He was grand champion and won the silver cup at the Michigan state fair last year. He has just been shorn, and the picture shows his wonderful mutton form, broad chest and beautiful head.

Henry L. Wardwell of New York state, writing to Country Gentleman, says he selected this ram last year as the best he saw in England, and he expects Trysil to prove a wonder.

Feeding Lambs Higher in Price.
Reports from the ranges indicate that feeding lambs are being contracted for October delivery at $5 to $5.50 per hundred pounds. A few contracts have been made around $2 per head, but this included cows as well as lambs. These prices are said to be 25 cents to 50 cents higher than a year ago. Buyers are not buying as liberally as a year ago, and the indications are that there will be a larger business on the open market in Denver than last year, many feeders preferring to take their chances on the market while conditions are as at present. The outlook is for cheap hay, with a big crop of grain and probably a large corn crop. Under these conditions feeders are more inclined to take chances, but prices are so high that many feeders have already commenced plans to feed cattle.—Record-Stockman.

PHYSICIANS.

DR. KUTCHIN

EX. U. S. EXAMINING SURGEON,

Specialist for the Treatment and Cure of all Long-Standing and Difficult Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Blood and Nervous System.

Will meet his many patients in this county every month for the next year, and examine all afflicted free. Ohio office, Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Kutchin has been visiting this County every four weeks for fifteen years.

This well known Specialist in the Treatment and Cure of difficult Chronic Diseases has consented to visit this county and give ALL AFFLICTED an opportunity to consult him Free of Charge and secure the latest and best treatment for such diseases as Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Neuralgia, Headache, Debility, Depression of Spirits, Diseases of Children, Hereditary Diseases, etc., and, in fact, all long-standing and chronic diseases. All surgical operations performed.

Dr. Kutchin will visit this county every month, thus saving his patients the trouble and expense of visiting the city. And he is the only physician in this county who carries his own diagrams to illustrate the cause and nature of their diseases. He promptly visits this town every four weeks, and will continue as long as God sends him to the afflicted.

CHRONIC DISEASES.

The Doctor treats no acute diseases, but makes a specialty of chronic and long-standing diseases. Cases given up by other doctors and pronounced incurable he most desires to see. Dr. Kutchin has treated many cases in this county, some of them being of which had been given up as incurable, some to be Blind, others Deaf, and a Large Number to be Invalids for Life. Now they See and Hear, and many are on the high road to Health.

The Doctor is surrounded with a fine collection of instruments for examining and treating all chronic diseases of the Head, Face, Eye, Ear, Throat, Heart, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Skin, Brain and Nervous System. Cancer, Rheumatism, Piles, Swellings, Old Sores, Fits, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gout, Sick Headache, Debility, Depression of Spirits, Diseases of Children, Hereditary Diseases, etc., and, in fact, all long-standing and chronic diseases. All surgical operations performed.

EXAMINATIONS FREE TO ALL.

Whenever it is known that Dr. Kutchin is stopping at a place, many consult him, and it is not to be wondered at when it is remembered that in diagnosing a disease he determines the different diseases better than they can for themselves. It is a wonderful gift for anyone to possess, and Dr. Kutchin's diagnostic powers have created wonder.

He adopted the following plan, which is peculiar to the large hospitals, and is not and never has been the practice of country doctors, viz: he carefully notes the symptoms of the patient and ascertains the condition of the internal organs, all of which he carefully records in his register for future reference. In this way he ascertains the true nature of the disease and its cause. When sick people consult him, he readily tells them whether he can cure or help them, or whether they are beyond hope.

HIS IMPROVED METHODS OF TREATMENT.

Are mild and pleasant, agree perfectly with the most delicate Lady or Child, do not reduce strength, can be used while at work and give the greatest possible benefit in the shortest possible time. Patients can consult him or communicate with him as often as they choose, during the whole time required for the cure, without regard to where they may be, and without extra charge, thus rendering the treatment as successful and satisfactory as though they were living next door to each other.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.

Such as have baffled the skill of other physicians and remedies. Dr. Kutchin quickly cures Cancer, Tumors, Fibroid and Polyroid. Growths cured without the use of the knife. No cutting, no pain, no danger.

A LIFE OF EXPERIENCE.

The Doctor has had a whole life of study and experience in his profession, and enjoys advantages which fall to the lot of but few. After attending his Full Courses in the Medical Colleges, and graduating with the highest honors, he was not content to stop there, but has since attended other Colleges, and several times re-entrant, having visited the best Medical Colleges, Hospitals, Dispensaries, Eye, Ear, Lung and other Medical and Surgical Institutions of Europe, improving every advantage within his command, and devoting the best years of his life to become thoroughly familiar with his profession in all its branches.

LATEST DISCOVERIES AND IMPROVEMENTS.

There are many diseases which physicians in common practice do not usually treat, and are therefore seldom prepared with necessary and costly outfit to examine correctly, or treat with success. Such cases, therefore, would do well to call at once and learn their true condition, and whether the doors of Hope are yet open, or forever closed against them.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

Are you afflicted? Your case may now be perfectly curable, but remember, every moment of neglect brings you nearer its incurable stages, when, perhaps, the most skillful physician can render you no assistance. The present is ours, the future may be Too Late.

Free Examination of the Urine.

Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring to 2 ounces of urine, which will receive a careful examination. Persons unskillfully treated by ignorant pretenders who keep dragging them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should call and see the Doctor.

Cases and correspondence confidential.

Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of the United States. Correspondence with invalids solicited. All letters with stamps enclosed answered free.

Call and be examined and at least learn the cause of your disease, and if it can be cured, have Worms removed in from three to five hours without starvation. The remedies for the whole course of treatment are furnished from the Office, all at once or by the month.
